INFORMATION ON THE SUBMISSION OF AMICUS CURIAE BRIEFS

March 1997

1. Pursuant to Rule 74 of the ICTY rules of Procedure and Evidence, "A Chamber may, if it considers it desirable for the proper determination of a case, invite or grant leave to a State, organisation or person to appear before it and make submissions on any issue specified by the Chamber".
2. Requests for leave to file amicus briefs may be submitted unsolicited or in response to a general invitation from a Trial Chamber. At its discretion, a Chamber may solicit an amicus submission from a particular State, organisation or person. Amici may be invited to participate in oral argument at the Chamber's sole discretion.
3. States, organisations or persons wishing to submit an amicus brief, or to appear as amicus curiae, must file an application specifying the following:
 - a) the applicant's name, address, and interest in the case;
 - b) the issue or issues the applicant seeks to address, and the nature of the information or analysis the applicant proposes to submit;
 - c) the applicant's qualifications;
 - d) whether the applicant makes application for leave to submit an amicus brief, or to appear as amicus curiae:
 - i) in respect to a general invitation for applications by the Chamber; or
 - ii) at the applicant's own initiative
 - e) the applicant's reasons for believing his submission will aid in the proper determination of the case or issue;
 - f) a statement identifying and explaining any contact or relationship the applicant had, or has, with any party to the case.
4. The application is to be sent to the Registry (see Item 5, below) which will then forward the application to the Trial Chamber for decision pursuant to Rule 74 of the Rules of Procedure and Evidence. The application may be accompanied by the written amicus brief which the applicant seeks to have the Chamber accept.
5. Applicants should note the following:
 - a) In all cases, amicus submissions shall be made in writing. Again, amici may be invited to participate in oral argument at the Chamber's sole discretion.
 - b) In general, amicus submissions shall be limited to questions of law, and in any event may not include factual evidence relating to elements of a crime charged;

- c) If the Chamber solicits or invites amicus curiae briefs, the Chamber shall give each party the opportunity to oppose the amicus submission, and in any event shall retain the power to reject the offered submission;
- d) The Chamber shall determine the timing of amicus submissions, and may set page limits on the length of such submissions;
- e) The parties will be given an opportunity to comment on such amicus briefs as have been accepted, but amici will not be subject to cross-examination, nor will they be allowed to call witnesses;
- f) In general, amici curiae shall bear their own expenses, but the Chamber may authorise the Registry to reimburse the reasonable expenses incurred in connection with participation in the Tribunal's proceedings, if the amicus has been specifically invited to apply or to appear by the Chamber.
