

Office of the Military Staff

Report

To Respected Angkar as follows:

I. In the past in working at the location of Division 450, the division's comrades reported activities involved with enemy implications made after we arrested Chhaet (ឆៃត) and Chhaet had implicated the following persons:

1. Chhaet, Chhlaung District, Kratei Province. Before the coup, his parents placed him in Banteay Sup, Kampong Cham, and he was trained in military techniques. Later the enemy armed him and had him go to Bakhom (បាខម). Later, in 1973, we attacked and liberated there, and he joined the Sector 21 army. Still later, he joined the Zone. Right after he joined Division 450, his activities were banditry linked with the traitor Vi (វី), linked with Nenh (ណេញ), called Srim (ស្រីម).

The links in Division 450 that Chhaet implicated follow:

1. Original name Thoeun (ត្នែន), revolutionary name Thoeun, a soldier at Bakhom, now a combatant.
2. Original name Hong (ហុង), revolutionary name Thim (ធំម), a spy at Taing Kouk, now a combatant.
3. Original name Bæk (បែក), revolutionary name Poan (ពាន់), a spy at Bakhom, now a combatant.
4. Original name Som (សំ), revolutionary name Som, low-ranking soldier at Taing Kouk, now a combatant.
5. Original name Phàng (ផង់), revolutionary name Phàng, military first lieutenant at Taing Kouk, now a combatant.
6. Original name Roeun, revolutionary name Hên (ហែន), low-ranking soldier, now a combatant.
7. Original name Huon (ហួន), revolutionary name Huon, soldier at taing Kouk, now a combatant.

8. Original name Roeun, revolutionary name Roeun, soldier at Taing Kouk.
9. Original name Kuon (ក្លួន), revolutionary name Kuon, soldier at taing Kouk, now a combatant.
10. Original name Savik (សាវីក), revolutionary name Savik, low-ranking soldier at Taing Kouk, now a combatant.
11. Revolutionary names Ra and Thēt. Chhaet incited them to run back home right away, but they had not yet entered [Banteay] Sup with him at all. As for these two persons, they were not soldiers.

II. Links in 310:

1. Original name Huon, revolutionary name Oeun, low-ranking soldier at Taing Kouk, now in economics.
2. Original name Toeu (តើ), revolutionary name Toeu, father was a lieutenant colonel, soldier at Bakhom. The base has already smashed his father.
3. Original name Dân (ដន), revolutionary name Dân, brother of Toeu, now with Toeu.
4. Original name Khoeun (ខេង), revolutionary name Chhoeun (ខេង), low-ranking soldier at Bakhom. Female section, now in charge of a platoon in Division 310.
5. Original name Mão (ម៉ៅ), revolutionary name Mão, low-ranking soldier at Bakhom. Home originally in Chheu Bak (ឃើបាក់) Village, Prey Chhor District. Father was a chief warrant officer, died at Bakhom.
6. Original name Sieng, revolutionary name Sieng, in charge of 12 low-ranking soldiers. Now a combatant.
7. Original name Chăn (ចាន់), revolutionary name unknown, Battalion Secretary, colonel, friend of Siv (ស៊ីវ), colonel, bandit. His description: white, tall, mole of left side of forehead, left hand amputated, left hand split in two.
8. Original name Sēng, revolutionary name unknown, battalion-level position, major. Description: dark, short, mole on right side of forehead.

III. Factory links:

1. Original name Khân (ខ័ន), revolutionary name unknown, combatant in the revolution, a veteran worker, nephew of Chăn, colonel.
2. Original name Roeun, female, chairperson of factory team.
3. Original name Krapoeu (ក្រប៊ែរ), revolutionary name unknown, veteran worker, friendly with the female named Roeun.

IV. Links in Commerce:

1. Original name Rēt (រ៉ែត), revolutionary name Rēt. Post is west of the Tuol Kouk antenna near the 310 Sewing site.
2. Original name Rēn, revolutionary name Rēn, located with Rēt.
3. Original name Hēn, unknown revolutionary name, at Commerce, bandit link, now located south of the Chroy Changvar Bridge, south of the 310 Guardpost.

V. – Chăn armed Chaet with the idea that shortly they would open fire, and when they defeated the Khmer Rouge Chăn would come to promote Chhaet.

As for as past activities, Chăn gave a flare gun to each of them: one to Chhaet, one to Loeun, and one to Rân.

Clarification: Loeun and Rân were assigned by Chăn to take three radio batteries to Siv at Ta [illegible] Môm Village, the new stupa.

The slogan upon meeting one another, they challenged “Kô” [cow], and the response was “Krabei” [water buffalo].

Request to report just this on the situation to Angkar, following work with Brother Suong (ស្វែង) of 450.

Done on 14 November 1976

Comrade Rèn (រ៉ែន)